Play: "Picking Plums" 2 - 6 players

Mark off a shooter line and a target line two feet apart (and parallel). Everyone places 2 - 4 marbles on the target line at least a two-finger width apart.

Players then take turns shooting at the target marbles from the pitch line. If you knock a marble off the line, add it to your pile. You only get one shot per turn. When the "plums are all picked", players may decide to shoot another round. In the end, the player with the most marbles wins
